LAST EDITION.

EX-MAYOR HALL AS AN ACTOR.
The Hit He Made in "Cruelty" Saturday Night.

New York, Dec. 20.—The debut of Ex-Mayor A. Oakley Hall in the play of "Cruelty," at the Park Theater, Saturday night, was generally considered a decided dramatic hit.

The Herald says he was self-possessed from the beginning and for so young an actor, played admirably, and with much feeling.

The Times says the play was well put upon the stage, and all the material points in Mr. Hall's part were brought out in a very natural and effective manner. As an actor Mr. Hall has doubtless much to learn, but for a first night few actors, even of the first-class, ever made a more successful appearance.

The World says Mr. Hall acts like one born to the stage, and the performance of last night proves that he may easily make for himself a place among the most intelligent and effective interpreters of the highest order of new dramatic characters.

New York, Dec. 20.—Carter & Eaton, attorneys, have filed an involuntary bankruptcy petition against Duncan, Sherman & Co., signed by 205 creditors, whose debts amount to $2,200,000. The alleged acts of bankruptcy were their failure to pay depositors, and forty days suspension of commercial paper. The firm were adjudged bankrupt on Saturday.

Fire—Weather.
Boston, Dec. 20.—The residence of Hon. E. D. Winslow, proprietor of the Boston Post and News, in Newton, was burned late last night, with nearly all its contents. Loss on building and personal property, $50,000. Insurance, $37,000.

The weather here is intensely cold; the thermometer stood last night at 7 degrees below zero.

Marine.
QUEENSTOWN, Dec. 20.—The White Star steamer Adriatic, from New York Dec. 11, arrived off Crook Haven at 11 P. M. yesterday.

QUEENSTOWN, Dec. 20.—The French Transatlantic Company's steamship L'Amirale, which arrived here on Saturday at 5 P. M., made 600 miles towed by a steamer, Ville de Bres, of the same line. All well on board. Her passengers sail by the Ville de Bres.

Babcock—Whisky Crookedness.
St. Louis, Dec. 20.—Gen. Babcock will not arrive here until his case is called for trial on the 11th day of January. It is stated that Gen. Babcock is detained in Chicago, where his wife also is, by an interesting family event which is about to happen. The McKee and McGivern cases are also set down for the 11th of January. McKee will be tried first, and probably will occupy a week or ten days.

Mr. Henderson is seriously ill from nervous prostration brought on by great mental excitement during the recent trial, together with his sudden dismissal. By order of his physicians he will make a trip to Cuba, starting, if possible, next week.

Suicide.
ERIE, PENN., Dec. 20.—Prof. F. S. Strawinski, teacher of manners and dancing, was found in Room 53 of the Ellsworth House here, by one of the porters of the hotel, about ten o'clock this morning, lying on the floor covered with blood, having shot himself with a small revolver. The bullet entered his head just under the right eye. He was still living at 11 A. M., but unconscious. No hopes are entertained of his recovery.

He has a family living at York, Pa. The cause of his act is said to be family difficulties. He left a note on his table addressed to Col. Ellsworth, proprietor of the hotel, saying, "Not any person do I blame for this fool act. You have all been very kind to me. Signed, F. S. Strawinski."

The Polar Wave East.
CONCORD, N. H., Dec. 20.—The weather this morning is very severe, the thermometer at 6 A. M., indicating 25 degrees below zero.

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 20.—The thermometer at 8 o'clock this morning indicated six degrees above zero.

New York, Dec. 20.—Last night was the coldest of the season. At midnight the mercury stood at zero, and it is intensely cold this morning.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Dec. 20.—The weather this morning is the coldest of the season. At sunrise the thermometer indicated 55 degrees below zero. Below that the thermometer ranges from 25 to 35 degrees below zero.

ports from the northern part of the State, say that the thermometer ranges from 25 to 35 degrees below zero.

That Centennial Visit.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—The members of Congress who visited the Centennial buildings at Philadelphia on Saturday express themselves as highly pleased with the reception accorded them by the Committee of Arrangements. They speak favorably of the work that has been done at Fairmount Park, and are generally in favor of Congress rendering the necessary aid.

Fire.
CHEYENNE, W. T., Dec. 20.—A fire at Georgetown, Colorado, destroyed J. O. Stewart's silver reduction works. Loss $125,000. Insurance $65,000. The fire was caused by the falling of a kerosene lamp, which exploded.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 20.—The loss by the Saturday night's fire, which partially destroyed the building occupied by the Buffalo Express, is estimated at from $8,000 to $10,000. Fully covered by insurance.

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 20.—A fire broke out Saturday night in the building on River street occupied by W. Broderick & Co., dealers in Brooms, Broomcorn, &c.; J. Miller, Wine and Liquor dealer, and G. N. Haywood, dealer in millstones and mill fixtures. The building was old and readily succumbed to the flames. A severe wind and snow storm prevailed at the time, and the flames were with difficulty confined to the building in which the fire originated.

As soon as the list of Committees had been read, the House adjourned.

Late Foreign News.
ALEXANDER, NOT THOMASSEN.
BREMEN, Dec. 20.—It is now learned that the real name of the owner of the case of dynamite which exploded on the wharf at Bremerhaven was Wm. K. Alexander, and not Thomassen, as at first reported. He was, it is said, well connected in New York.

FLASHES.
Diphtheria is prevailing in an epidemic form at Columbus, O.

R. F. Opdyke, a well-known miller of Birmingham, Mich., has disappeared.

The Mechanics' Bank of Montreal has reported on a borrowed capital of $125,000.

Peter S. Hardsell, a well-to-do citizen of Mayville, Indiana, committed suicide yesterday.

The winners of the New Orleans races on Saturday were Maimiste, Kilburn and Sam Harper.

James Carr, eighteen years of age, was found Saturday night frozen to death, on the Merrimack river, at Lowell, Mass. A wood-chopper named Mullen was found frozen to death near Tremont, N. H. He had been drinking.

William Schmuck, of Amherst, Ohio, while walking on the railroad track near Elyria, was attacked by two tramps. In attempting to resist them, he was thrown under the train, and had one arm cut off, and was otherwise badly injured. The tramps escaped.

James Robinson, colored, the owner of the "Robinson House," on the Bull Run battle-field, near Manassas, Va., died a few days since. He witnessed both of the memorable battles, remaining on his place with his family during those terrible scenes of blood. His house received hundreds of bullets and one solid 24-pounder, which went through a bed-room, carrying away one post of a bed upon which lay a sick Confederate soldier. He witnessed the death of the Confederate General Bee and Bartow which took place within a hundred yards of his door. He saw the marble monument erected to their memory, and saw the Federal soldiers destroy the same at the second battle. He gathered up the fragments and preserved them, and up to the time of his death would give visitors to the battle-field who desired it a small piece of the marble as a memento.

On the 22d ult. the Lord Mayor of London, on taking his seat in the justice room, was informed that there were no cases to be tried, and in accordance with an ancient custom was presented with a pair of white kid gloves as a memento of the fact.
